Hail Mary...

THREE CARROLL STUDENTS kneel in prayer before the new Our Mother of Grace Shrine which is to be dedicated Sun., Oct. 28.

Shrine Dedication Marks Parents Day

By TOM NANGLE

Dedication ceremonies of the recently-completed outdoor shrine, dedicated to Our Mother of Grace in memory of Robert J. Beaudry, will take place on Sunday, Oct. 28, at 2:30 p.m. It will be the highlight of Parents Day to which all parents of John Carroll students are invited.

Opening at 10:00 a.m. with Mass in the Auditorium, the day will proceed with brunch in the Cafeteria. A reception for the parents will be held in the Auditorium at 2:00 p.m. Faculty members will be in attendance at the reception as well as the administration officials.

Fr. Welfle to Preside

The Rev. Frederick E. Welfle, S.J., President of the University, will preside at the dedication ceremonies. The edifice, located between Bernet Hall and the Chemistry Building, is in memory of Beaudry, a 1950 graduate who died in a plane crash last March. It was donated by Mrs. Agnes Beaudry Brennan, Chicago, Beaudry's mother; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh W. Phillips, Chicago; and Miss Thomasina Collins, Cleveland, Beaudry's fiancée at the time of the tragedy.

With the dedication a new place for devotion, a long dream of the University is fulfilled. The shrine is easily accessible to students, faculty, and friends of John Carroll. It will also be available for services on special occasions.

The architecture of the shrine is English Gothic with a gabled roof of slate. The statue of Our Mother of Grace, which rests on a heavy stone ledge, is made of stone with a special weatherproofing treatment.

Shrine Will Be Illuminated

The shrine will be illuminated at night by lights concealed behind the front chambered oak rafters. An automatic time switch will control the illumination which goes on at 6:30 p.m. There is also an electrical outlet for a public address system for group devotions. Three open areas of the shrine's piazza are covered with grass. A beautiful formal English garden of evergreens flank the two sides of the shrine.

Much of the credit for the erection of this shrine should be given to the Rev. John A. Weber, S.J., who worked tirelessly for its completion.

Judo Club to Begin Classes

Instructor Theodore Galaida announced today that students intending to enroll in the John Carroll Judo Club must sign up before Oct. 26.

The Judo Club meets Monday through Thursday at 3:30 and 4:30 p.m. Plans are complete for the addition of two classes, at 10 a.m. and 6:15 p.m. to accommodate the present roster of one hundred men.

Night Group Plans Unit of Sodality

Plans for the formation of a unit of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary in the Evening Division were announced at the annual retreat for the evening students by their retreat master, the Rev. James J. McQuade, S.J., director of the Department of Religion.

Up to the present time the students of the Evening Division have not had access to membership in the Sodality.

With the formation of this group the first co-ed division in the Sodality's history would be initiated.

The response to Father McQuade's proposal at the retreat for the formation of this group was very gratifying, he stated.

Candidates have a brief training period during which they study the principles of the Sodality.

Applications for membership may be obtained in the office of Rev. Richard T. Deters, S.J., director of the Evening Division.

Students to Select Homecoming Queen

The deadline for submitting candidates for the 1951 John Carroll Homecoming Queen has been extended to Wednesday, Oct. 24, according to Theodore Gullia, chairman of the Special Events committee of the Boosters Club.

The Queen and her attendants will be chosen by the entire student body at the Quantico rally, Oct. 26, when all entrants will be present in the Auditorium for selection and approval of the assembled Carrollites.

Queen Will Be Active

The first formal presentation of the Queen and her attendants will be at the Sophomore Halloween Frolic, Oct. 31, in the University Auditorium. She will also be in attendance at the Homecoming Dance immediately following the Dayton-Carroll game at which she will be formally crowned Queen during the half time festivities. She will also reign at the Football Dance, Nov. 17.

Contest rules are as follows: All pictures must be at least 5x7 inches in size, submitted in an envelope containing the name, address, age, and telephone number of the entrant and the name and address of the person submitting the picture. Each entry must be sponsored by a student or a faculty member of the University. All pictures should be submitted to Fr. Murphy's office.

Hearns to Direct Carroll Glee Club

Mr. Jack Hearns, director of the John Carroll Band, was appointed director of the University Glee Club, the Rev. William J. Murphy, S.J., moderator of both organizations announced recently.

The Glee Club now totals some forty veteran members, but Mr. Hearns intends to increase this number by twenty more in the near future.

Highlight of the Glee Club activities for the coming year will be the annual concert at Severance Hall, May 16, 1952, when the Band and Glee Club will unite to present a combined concert.

Rex, Mangy Mascot, Spreads Out

"We Don't Care If He Is a Hound, You Can't Kick Our Dog Around" was the cry taken up by many students here at John Carroll a few weeks ago when it was learned that Rex, our lumbering St. Bernard mascot, was up for adoption.

The fact was that Rex, who tips the scale at 175 pounds, had virtually eaten his way out of house and home. He was gobbling up food at the phenomenal rate of $66 per month. Compare this with the fact that one can board a horse for $25 to $30 per month—and in good style at that. Rex eats six pounds of horsemeat daily as well as several other dog foods.

Boosters Board Brute

For the past four years, the Booster Club has been keeping the dog with money from the club treasury. This year, however, the strain proved too great and the school prepared to say a fond farewell to the great beast. A story in the Cleveland News informed the world of the predicament and brought offers to help from all corners of the city. Over a dozen calls were received from people who wanted to adopt Rex. The dubious honor was given to Mr. Justin N. Testruth, of Bedford, Ohio, who has been keeping Rex at his farm for the last four years.

Student disappointment eased greatly with the announcement that Rex would still be available for the football games. Although

Business Men Dance Oct. 20

The annual Commerce Club dance will be held at the Richmond Country Club on Saturday, Oct. 20, following the Case Tech-John Carroll football game. Bids are $1.00 per couple.

The Club has decided to conduct two meetings a week in the future. This second meeting would accommodate the Juniors, whose schedules prevent them from attending the regular sessions.

Sophomores can now join the Club in the capacity of associate members. They are eligible to attend all meetings and functions but cannot vote or hold office. Juniors and seniors who carry business courses but do not belong to the business school can also become associate members.

Mass Offered to Aid Students

The Very Rev. Frederick E. Welfle, S.J., President of the University, was celebrant of the traditional Votive Mass of the Holy Ghost this morning at 9 a.m. in the Auditorium.

The entire student body and faculty joined with him in offering the Holy Sacrifice to ask for the blessing of God upon the University and for guidance throughout the year.

The Rev. Herman S. Hughes, S.J., instructor in philosophy, preached the sermon, "The Role of the Holy Spirit in the Sanctification of University Life." Father Hughes presented the Holy Ghost as the Spirit of truth and love and as the guiding light in this present day of acute educational and social ills.

To All Students:

The student sections for the Case game this Saturday evening at Shaw Stadium have been changed to Reserve Seats in the West Stand. This change was necessitated by the insistence of Case Institute that each school have a whole side of the field. Since Case followed this seating policy last year for their home game, we feel it necessary to reciprocate and do the same.

The student sections for Saturday night, then, will be in the West Stand in Sections 2, 4, 6, part of 8, and 12.

Some of you who have obtained Season Tickets for the East Stand will have to exchange your section seat for a reserved seat in the sections named above.

Thank you in advance for your cooperation.

—Rev. Owen J. Englum, S.J.

Soph Class Plans Halloween Frolic

The annual Halloween Frolic sponsored by the Sophomore class will be held on the evening of Oct. 31 in the John Carroll University Auditorium from 8 p.m. until 12 p.m. Music will be supplied by Marve Heier's orchestra with Jeff Hewitt as featured vocalist.

Highlight of the evening will be the first formal presentation of John Carroll's 1951 Homecoming Queen and her attendants.

The dance committee consists of Daniel Boland, chairman, Charles D'Ambrosio, David Schuler, John Kearney, Neil Riordan, Thomas Sullivan and James Sutphin.

Bids sell for $2.00 per couple.

Frosh Cast Votes for Class General

Primary elections for Senior class secretary and Freshman class general were held on Thursday and Friday of this week.

Nominations for Senior class secretary are Herbert Hetu, Thomas McCafferty, and Lawrence Snitzky. Running for Freshman class general are Thomas Bridgeman, James Cusick, Richard Twohig, and Jerry Wensinger.

HERE WE SEE Rex in his younger days leading a Carroll cheer. Now in semi-retirement, our massive mascot has shed his frosh cap and is spending his old age putting on weight and telling shaggy dog stories.

Rex was adopted lock, stock, and barrel, Mr. Testruth graciously consented to lend Rex to Carroll for the football games. He will be transported from the Bedford farm to the games in a station wagon.

One fact worth mentioning is that Rex is a misogynist, a condition not unusual on a college campus.

Members of the Freshman and Sophomore classes take the field today at 3:30 p.m. in the third post-war Pushball Contest. Sponsored by the Carroll Union, the event is scheduled to take place on the upper football practice field.

Under Chairman Arthur Grumney, a committee is preparing for the annual event by reconditioning the ball, setting the rules for play, and seeing that the field is ready for the mele.

At this writing the rules require only one goal to be made for victory. Any number of freshmen and sophomores may participate but they are not permitted to wear padding or any other sports equipment. In the event that the six-foot pushball is deadlocked between the opposing teams, it will be placed in the center of the field again and the contest will resume.

Rules Variable

At the discretion of the officials, however, the rules of play are liable to change according to the progress of the traditional battle. This is the rubber affair since the Sophs routed the Frosh in 1949 and the first-year men turned the tables in 1950.

Drawing upwards of 150 contestants and 300 spectators from all the local campuses yearly, the maelstrom will decide whether or not the freshmen will be forced to wear their beanies until Thanksgiving or if they will be able to shed them as the result of a victory over the second-year men.

'Capers' Set For Musical

Campus Capers, the annual NFCCS musical review, is well on its way to the December production date, according to directors Raymond Wiemer and Robert Breiner. The show will take place on Saturday, Dec. 8, and Sunday, Dec. 9. Casting was completed last Sunday and full scale rehearsals will start this week.

The officers of the show include Raymond Wiemer, director; Robert Breiner, musical director; Glenn Messer, set designer; and John Kileen, business manager. The show is based on an original script by Marvin Heier.

The cast will be composed of the students from John Carroll, Notre Dame and Ursuline Colleges.

Among the leads are Laetitia Maher, Noreen McCue, Jean Schatzel, Lois Pawlok, Raymond Hills, Robert Curry, Francis Casarona, and John Church. Others in the cast are William Hussey, Herbert Hetu, William Joliet, and William Schneider.

NFCCS Congress Convenes Oct. 27

Publications Dance Held

To the strains of music provided by the Jubilaires, a large crowd danced away the first annual Journalist Jump on Friday, Oct. 5, from 9 to 12. The sport dance was sponsored by the Carroll News, Carillon, and Carroll Quarterly.

Proceeds from the affair went to the Pi Delta Epsilon Scholarship Fund. This fund was established so the award could be made to the outstanding freshman journalist of 1951.

Touted as the most inexpensive dance of the year, the event was managed by Donald Rourke, dance committee chairman, who was assisted by Raymond Wiemer, Robert Huddleston, Jerome Miller, Henry Harter, and Paul Mooney.

Fr. Clark Gives Student Retreat

The Rev. Charles W. Clark, S.J., conducted the annual Freshman retreat for the fifth consecutive year. The retreat began on Wednesday, Oct. 10 and ended on Friday evening, Oct. 12.

The general attitude of the students in making this retreat was very commendable according to the Rev. Clifford J. LeMay, S.J., chaplain. He stated that the silence kept by the group as a whole showed its sincerity in making a good retreat.

As in the past Father Clark heard confessions of the students until the late hours of the night.

The entire Freshman class plus a large number of upperclassmen made this three day retreat.

A former army chaplain, Father Clark conducts parish missions and retreats throughout the country during the year. He has also served as a parish chaplain.

Ohio and Eastern Michigan will meet to discuss problems arising in student life, to exchange ideas, and to meet the leaders of other colleges.

The theme of the Congress will be, "The Role of the Catholic College Student in the Mystical Body." The Rev. James Keller, founder of the Christophers, has been invited to deliver the opening address on the theme.

The National Chaplain of the NFCCS, the Rev. William J. Murphy, will formally open the Congress at 1:30 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 27.

Council Meeting Planned

A Regional Council meeting will be included in the program of the Congress. All students from the ten colleges are invited to attend the Congress. On Sunday, Oct. 28, the Regional Commissions will have panel workshops. They will meet to discuss a program for the coming year and propose how they can best carry out the National Commission programs in their respective colleges.

Regional Commissions include: Press, Interacial Justice, Student Government, International Relations, Industrial Relations, Liturgical-Marian, Social Service, Fraternity of Christian Doctrine, and Inter-American Action.

John Beringer of John Carroll will lead the panel on Social Service. John Carroll holds the National Service under the direction of Mark F. Devine. It is the duty of the Social Service Commission to attend to the needs, wants, and recreation of the orphan, underprivileged, and handicapped.

Commission Active

A very good illustration of the Social Service Commission work at Carroll was a recent visit of a group of Carroll actors to Mary-

Better to Give . . .

A challenge in the guise of a little red feather has dropped squarely in the lap of the John Carroll student body. The red feather, of course, is the campaign emblem of the Cleveland Community Chest; the challenge stems from Carroll's past record in the drive, which—to say the very least—has not been good.

This past year our University, by seeking the aid of the community in a tremendous building program, has placed itself prominently in the public eye. Our rapidly rising new dormitory is eloquent witness to the city's generous response. Now would be the most inopportune time possible for the student body to shirk a civic responsibility.

But we must all accept the challenge and prove to the city of Cleveland that Carroll men are good citizens. Give generously to the Community Chest. Show the city that Carroll can give as well as receive.

Too Busy?

October is the month when campus life gets into full swing, when we find the pressure of studies and activities taking more and more of our time. But in our haste we may forget that October is significant for other reasons.

Every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 11:50 and 12:45, and every Tuesday and Thursday at 11:20 and 12:45, the rosary is recited in the student chapel, part of the international Rosary Crusade for world peace.

Why not set aside a few minutes a day for God?

It's Up to You

A tradition is a strange thing. Like a butterfly it will settle in your hand; but, at the slightest pressure, it will flutter away. Corporations, schools, and journalists try hard and often, but they can never manufacture a tradition. That is because a tradition—a true tradition—must be a spontaneous thing: the overflow of a dramatic occurrence or a memorial to a striking event. Rockne and Gipp, for example, died dramatic deaths and traditions blossomed over-night on the campus at South Bend.

Certainly Bob Beaudry's death was both tragic and dramatic. His life—the important years spent here at Carroll—had elements that could well become legendary.

Will the drama and the beauty slip away from Carroll as it has so often in the past? Or will a strong tradition flower up around the shrine and thrive there?

A Friend In Need

The condition of the Rev. Joseph A. Kiefer, S.J., who suffered a severe stroke while visiting in California in mid-July, remains unchanged.

Fr. Kiefer, who was head of the Department of Classical Languages last year, is also the composer of "Sons of Carroll," our alma mater.

With emphasis being placed on the Angelus Crusade and the daily rosary, there is no finer object more worthy of our devotion than this saintly man whose loyalty to Carroll and love of his fellow creatures has endeared him to every individual with whom he has come in contact. He needs your prayers.

Let's Grow Up

Most people would not throw food across their dining room, nor empty condiment shakers into plates for the sheer "fun" of it. However, some students of John Carroll, supposedly mature, reasoning men, persist in such acts.

These pranks are a striking indication of the immaturity which the students claim to have shed with the ending of high school days.

We have to eat in the surroundings, why not make them pleasant ones?

NUMBER ELEVEN— AN EDITORIAL

(Fifty-seventh of a series)
As you may well imagine, my last column caused considerable comment in Carroll literary circles, but before I say anything in my defense, I would like to acknowledge the flood of questions with which we have been deluged since our last appearance. In line with our policy of keeping the electorate informed, we are appending some of the more printable queries, along with their answers.

Will you lend me five dollars?
No.

How far do we go for the English test?

What English test?

Why did you have such a corny title for your last column?

It was the only thing I could think of that would fit into such a small space. Want to make something of it?

Who's John Carroll?

Let's not start that again.

Why don't you drop dead?

I do not believe that this is an honest question, and it is not the policy of this department to answer such questions. However, if the inquirer really has an honest doubt, he may see me privately and I shall try to answer it.

Where were you on the night of August 16, 1936?

Let's not be any sillier than we have to be.

Department of little-things-to-make-up-375 words: In answer to many requests we are printing here a picture of the left side of Dan Boland's face—the side that wasn't shown in the Annual photograph.

D. Boland

(Note: Due to circumstances beyond our control we were unable to obtain a more suitable photograph. However, the item seemed too good—in comparison—to leave out.)

From the P.D. August 24: "The Browns received a long letter of congratulations on their victory over the All-Stars from Capt. Weldon Humble of the Marines today. Weldon, who has been working out with the Quantico Marines, says 'he already has a strange feeling when thinking about playing in Cleveland against John Carroll.' He thinks he feels strange! He ought to see the guy who's going to be playing against him in the Carroll line! . . ."

And this seemed like such a good idea when I thought of it.

Busy Life Finds Carroll Man As Worker, Student, Father

CARROLL SOPHOMORE BOB EVANS and his nine-week old son John study their Spanish lesson while Bob's wife Wanda dusts the family coffee table.

By BOB HUDDLESTON

If votes were to be cast for the busiest man on the Carroll campus, John R. "Bob" Evans would draw a lion's share of the tallies.

This 27-year-old sophomore carries 17 credit hours in the College of Arts and Sciences, works an eight-hour night shift, is married, and has a baby nine weeks old.

Tough? "Well, I don't have much time for hobbies," says Bob, "but I manage to get by. I average 5½ hours sleep per night, plus all I catch waiting for traffic lights."

Bob's "day" starts at 10 p.m., when his wife Wanda tugs him out of bed. After a quick meal, he starts for the Ohio Crankshaft Co., where he operates a lathe from 11 p.m. till 7 a.m. He then drives to Carroll, arriving in time to eat "dinner" before his 8:10 class.

He is usually home at 3 p.m. where he eats, plays with the baby, and studies till 5 p.m. He tries to do all homework in the school library between classes.

Served 31 Months in Navy

Born in Philadelphia, Bob was graduated from Simon Gratz High School there, and earned six letters in basketball and cross country. He served 31 months in the Navy, 11 of which were spent overseas. At Great Lakes he played on the Training Station basketball team under Forrest "Fordy" Anderson, now coach at Bradley University. On his tour of duty he taught instrument repair and remedial English, and also worked in an aircraft instrument repair shop.

The Cleveland Indians were responsible for his move to Cleveland. He came here to see a baseball game in 1948, liked the city, and remained. His wife's knowledge of Jesuit education led to his enrollment at Carroll in February of 1951. Wanda, who was born in a Jesuit college town, West Baden, Ind., came in contact with some of their "instruction" at Notre Dame College here, where she received her AB degree in 1949. Even their baby, John Augustine, began life in a Jesuit atmosphere when he was baptized by Father Birkenhauer.

Wife Is Advisor, Booster, Critic
Bob will major in social science, and plans to do juvenile correction work upon graduation. Wanda is his most ardent booster and most helpful critic. She is well qualified in the latter capacity, as she majored in English and taught in the Cleveland public school system.

His life lacks entertainment, but if he had time, Bob would enjoy a good pinocchio game or an evening with a paint brush and palette.

Many people might consider him unlucky for enduring this grind, but he will tell you, "I don't think so. As long as I keep my eyes on the future, and stay hard at work, I'll get that sheepskin before I realize it."

Relics in Chapel Tell Strange Stories of Saints' Heroic Deaths

Three slender, golden reliquaries stand in front of the statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary in the third floor chapel of John Carroll University. Every day students kneel before the statue and look up into the eyes of the Virgin, hardly giving a second glance to the three unobtrusive relic cases.

Perhaps not many Carroll men know what exalted matter lies behind the small glass circles atop their slender stems.

The reliquaries are small objects. They stand about nine inches high. At the top of a slender stem rests a circular case approximately ¼ of an inch in diameter. Behind the glass front of each case is a first-class relic.

St. Stanislaus Relic Valued

Near the Virgin's right side rests the relic of St. Stanislaus Kostka. A tiny piece of bone from St. Stanislaus' knee is placed in an artificial flower. St. Stanislaus, a Polish youth who died at the age of 17 when he was a novice in the Society of Jesus, was canonized Dec. 31, 1726. He once walked from Vienna to Rome in order to join the Jesuit order, in times when such a journey was an invitation to death. This saint and St. John Berchmans and St. Aloysius Gonzaga compose the famous trio known as the "boy saints."

American Martyrs Died Bravely

The reliquary which stands at the foot of the statue shelters relics of three American martyrs, St. John De Brebeuf, St. Gabriel Lalemant, and St. Charles Garnier, priests of the Society of Jesus. There were eight American martyrs, but these three were the only ones whose remains have been discovered. Savage Iroquois Indians killed De Brebeuf in 1649. Before his death, De Brebeuf had scalding water poured over his head, a collar of red-hot tomahawks put around his neck, and a red-hot iron placed down his throat. During this torture, De Brebeuf did not utter a sound. Canadians revere him as their greatest saint.

Father Lalemant followed De Brebeuf to the stake the same day. He was tortured for 15 hours before expiring.

St. Charles Garnier was another Iroquois victim. He was hatched in 1649 as he administered the last sacraments to a member of the Tobacco nation during an Iroquois attack.

Saint of Purity Converts Slayer

To the left of The Blessed Mother stands the relic of St. Maria Goretti, who sacrificed her life for purity's sake. The little Italian girl was killed by a young man who had tried to violate her chastity. Pope Pius XII raised her to the dignity of a saint recently. Her assassinator is now a religious.

Such is the story of the three relics which stand before the Blessed Virgin's statue in the chapel. Rev. Clifford J. LeMay, S.J., student chaplain, said that anyone may examine the relics if he wishes.

Stolen From . . .

Saint Mary's Collegian

John D. Casey stayed up all night last Wednesday. Michael Joseph Casey was born Sept. 20, at 1:30, seven pounds, nine ounces. Then John hopped into his car, hurried to the College from San Francisco to be on time for his first class—a religion class in marriage guidance, given especially for those anticipating that big step.

The neighbors were complaining of the racket Mrs. Jones' husband was making. "All the time he goes around cackling like a chicken," they griped.

"I know," Mrs. Jones said. "We get tired of it too. Sometimes we think he's not in his right mind."

"But can't you do something for him? Can't you cure him?"
"Oh yes, I suppose we could. But we do need the eggs."

Slowly but Surely

A HOPEFUL FRESHMAN inspects progress of Carroll's new dorm, most recent addition to the Quadrangle. Gordon Hoskyns, business administration student from Jackson, Mich., is living off campus now, but expects to live in one of the dorms when completion of the new hall eases the problem of housing out-of-town students.

Smatterings of Schmaltz

BY PAUL MOONEY

While paddling home in the Toledo deluge, I came across a lone Carroll roofer lamenting in a park. He attracted my attention with impeccable grace. He had his purple horse kick me in the face. I knew I had seen the chap somewhere before, but his freshman beanie seemed out of place with his epaulets and rapier. Not until he had introduced himself as Tony Wayne did I realize that Mad Anthony was riding again. "Shades of History 3," I stammered, "surely you have recovered from the shock of my identifying you as Benedict Arnold in Fr. Kerner's quarter exam, Tony, old scout."

"Tut, tut," soothed Tony, "I took care of that misdemeanor with this fluid fall evening we're having. But I have some thing to tell you goons from Carroll. This is the first year that my bridge out there, the Anthony Wayne Bridge, that is, hasn't had the honor of being the starting point for a Carroll Caravan."

His horse whined and kicked me in the face again. "Listen here, Anthony my friend," I said, spitting my incisors in his bay's eye, "if you call Uncle Miltie off, I might consider looking into the matter if I don't drown on the way back."

"See here, dormant informant, either there is another caravan started from my bridge next year or I'll see that Toledo clumps Carroll again." His nag punctuated the demand by slapping his soggy tail across my puffy grimace.

"And my name's not Uncle Miltie; it's Blue Streak," Tony's mount pouted.

Before I could offer any apology or excuse, they wheeled about and rode off into the night. "Heigh-ho, Blue Streak" is the last thing I remember. But when I woke up the next morning, a beanie with a note on it dangled from the sycamore tree that I slept in.

It read: "I still think Fr. Kerner should have flunked you."

Reflection on a Substitution—Verse

I wish I could lay my hands on the fool

Who thought up the 25-second rule . . .

Things were really ducky when the Army brought out one of their famous amphibious "ducks" to give the ROTC students a first-hand knowledge of its operation and road ability. Several had the chance to operate the machine alone. Needless to say, many wisequacks were tossed around when classes broke up.

The latest in the annals of ROTC exploits, however, will soon be published in serial form in "Stagnant, the He-Man's Magazine." Entitled "Thirty-Seven Came Back," the thriller describes the perils and dangers and seasickness 37 MS students underwent trying to get home from the Toledo game via Lake Erie. It tells a terrifying tale of men against the sea, of waves twelve feet high crashing over a boatswain's forecastle, of brave men going without because they were forced to. So don't miss the July, 1954, issue. That's when the serial is through.

Lines Written on a Fall Day While Looking Out A Classroom Window

The logic prof does not deter

Because I'm just non sequitur.

With no pun intended toward the coming Halloween, a perennial skeleton is out of the closet once again and has to be rattled before it can be put back. It's that trophy case again. Every year our incoming freshmen are greeted with a collection of trophies that look like Grandpa's souvenirs from San Juan Hill. Of course we know that the job of their maintenance is a freshman responsibility. But until the frosh elect their leaders, which is always at least a month after the semester starts, the case looks like the back room of an antique shop. The Union should either shift the duties to another class which will be able to take over immediately at the beginning of school or form a Union Committee for its maintenance.

Now virtually as much of the spiritual life at John Carroll as the student chapel and the ringing of the Angelus is Father Clark whose annual visit to our University to conduct the Freshman Retreat is all but taken for granted. It is easy to forget that Father has a packed schedule from one year to the next and yet he always makes sure that the three-day autumn stop at Carroll is on it. He never fails to win the hearts of the frosh with his genial Irish wit, and his man-to-man attitude toward retreatants. Father Clark's enthusiasm is highly contagious and you can almost see it grow in the students as the retreat progresses. Father gives a simple approach to a retreat and does not involve his lectures or meditations with philosophical digressions. Here is one of the poems he used to stress a point in the retreat and it shows the from-the-heart spirit for which he is so famous.

You don't have to tell
How you live each day;
You don't have to say
If you work or play;
A tried, true barometer
Serves in the place;
However you live—
It will show in your face.

If your life is unselfish,
If for others you live,
For not what you get,
But how much you can give;
If your life is good
And not in disgrace,
You won't have to tell it,
It shows in your face.

The battle of the season seems to be waxing for tomorrow night when the Carroll gridders attempt to have a Case dismissed at Shaw Stadium. The forecast calls for a dry track and plenty of guts football.

Carroll Tackles Veteran Case Eleven Tomorrow

The Sportfolio

By HANK HARTER

SEATINGS CHANGED

In response to a request by the athletic officials at Case Tech, the seating arrangement for the Case-Carroll game tomorrow night has been altered. Seats for Carroll students have been changed from the East to the WEST side of the field. Reserved sections for students are numbers 2-4-6-12.

In addition, season ticket holders are advised to turn in their tickets for the East side of the field to new seats on the WEST.

We feel it foolish to not have had a Freshman squad this year, regardless of the recent freshman ruling. Such neophyte squads not only give the varsity valuable insight into opponents strategies, but provide frosh gridders early contact with a mild form of collegiate football.

Don Shula, former Streak star ('51), is second string back for the Cleveland Browns' pro aggregation. Don has been in most of their games this season, and is doing yeoman work. Carl Taseff, Mr. T.D. himself in collegiate days at Carroll ('51), is currently on the doubtful list for the Browns. Carl is still on the payroll, but does not dress for games.

FIELD HOUSE, A' COME-ON

We viewed the University of Detroit Field House recently, which is to be in partial use by the first of Feb., '52, and are certainly jealous.

The structure, which is expected to range in the neighborhood of two and one-half million dollars, is absolutely THE last word in field houses, gymnasiums, armories and what have you! John Carroll could do worse, if and when.

JUDO ANYONE?

Judo seems to be taking hold at JCU. Ted Galaida, former GI, is currently holding classes twice per week in the basement of the gymnasium. Price per lesson is .50, with rumor of proceeds to be donated towards a party prior to the Quantico game.

The course is being jointly sponsored by the ROTC and the Carroll Athletic Dept. Galaida was a judo expert during the Late Great, and at present has approximately 50 muscular hopefuls enrolled for his tender tutoring.

THE WAILING WALL ****

Hank Schmidt, stellar forward for the Streak cagers during the past two seasons has fallen victim to the snares of Uncle Sam. Hank has already left Carroll, and will report for induction on or about Nov. 1.

He was an all-around good player, and would have been first-string varsity this year with luck. At any rate, good luck, Hank.

Ron Kaminski, fleet scatback for the Streaks, sustained a broken rib in the Bonaventure game, and as a result has been sidelined for the rest of the season. He was leading ground gainer for the Carroll machine in the Bonnie Game, prior to his injury.

Remember—THE MARINES ARE COMING—OCT. 26.

Harriers in First Meet

Cross Country plodders received their initial test Wednesday when they encountered Case and Kent State in a triangular meet at Case. Though edged by the Rough Riders, the Streaks slipped past Kent to notch a second place.

Freshman Bob Stangle led the Carroll aggregation with Jim Stephens, Clarence Blake, Ray Williams, and Jim Comyns also placing in that order.

Coach Fred George has been working out with the team regularly as they prepare for their second contest, a triangular meet with Akron and Oberlin.

Frosh Show Promise
Stangle and Stephens, also a freshman, have put in top bids as regulars on the squad. Both Williams and Comyns are experienced track men, each having run middle distance on last year's team.

Blake, a sophomore, was a track letterman last year as a miler and two-miler, and also winner of last year's intramural mile run. Red O'Donnell, a junior, is the

I-M League Seeks Players

John Carroll's Intramural Bowling League began seasonal competition Oct. 11, at the Cedar-Center Alleys.

On opening day, the members bowled for average scores. Leading the group was Vince Teragni with a 159 high. George Burns placed second with a 157, while Jim St. John tilted the maps with a 154 peak.

Vacancies Exist

Thus far eight teams are entered in the League, with four men needed to fill existing vacancies.

Anyone interested in joining the group, which bowls every Thursday, excepting vacation periods, should contact either Joe Kovachs or the manager of the League's alleys.

only holdover from the '50 Cross Country team.

Other meets scheduled include Western Reserve, Baldwin-Wallace, and a finale with Case.

Rockets Flare Up, 26-12

University of Toledo grid-ders broke a five game losing streak against the John Carroll Blue Streaks Saturday, Oct. 6, at the Glass Bowl in Toledo.

Scoring in the first two minutes of play, the Rockets held their lead throughout the game, which ended with the home team victors, 26-12.

The Eisele-coached squad did not shove over a tally until the final eight minutes of playing time, when, after a steady drive, the Streak's Ron Kaminski pushed the ball over from the three, following a TU fumble on their own 36.

Burrell Shields, veteran back for the Clevelanders, headed a 55 yard push, that saw him go over standing up from the seven.

The Rockets displayed terrific offensive power throughout the first half, limiting the Streaks both on the ground and in the air to a token resistance.

Tallying for the Rockets were Schwartz, Kaser, Jenkins, and Carsen. Extra point honors for the Rockets went to Bob Carsen, who connected on two of his four attempts.

Meet the Streaks

When football gets into your blood you just can't eliminate it. Scrappy Ray Slogar, senior offensive guard and defensive tackle, found that out and reported to Coach Herb Eisele last Spring after an absence of three years from the gridiron.

Played in Charity Game

Ray, a six-foot, 206 pounder, who played guard for Eisele at Latin, and participated in the 1946 Charity Game when the Purple and Gold whipped Holy Name 35 to 6, got his first crack at college varsity ball in the opener against St. Francis College a month ago.

Transfers to Carroll

The following year, Slogar transferred to Carroll, but declined to participate in football. Somehow, in recent months, the urge to get back in the game became too strong and Ray surprised his old coach by showing up at this year's Spring drills.

This aggressive guard, who will be 22 next month, suffered a shoulder injury in sandlot baseball the past summer, and almost lost his chance to play this season.

Slogar, a major in physics, still is an ardent Latin rooter, having twin brothers, Ron and Don, playing halfback positions on the Lion's freshman squad.

St. Bonaventure handed Carroll its third straight defeat 20-13 Friday night at Shaw Stadium before 3,867 grid fans.

The Bonnies were sparked by their ace Quarterback Ted Marchibroda who threw one touchdown pass and set up the winning marker with a 16-yd. dash to Carroll's three yd. line in the final period.

Bonnies Break Ice

After a scoreless first quarter, the Bonnies broke the ice when Freshman Halfback Wayne Torrey took a Carroll punt and, behind tremendous downfield blocking, sailed along the left sideline for an electrifying 79-yd. touchdown run. Walt Czaja kicked the extra point and St. Bonaventure led 7-0.

With three minutes remaining in the half, Carroll started a 53-yd. drive which culminated in End Chuck McMillan's diving catch of Tony Ferrante's pass in the end zone for the Streak's initial score. George Lyman's conversion attempt was blocked and the half ended with St. Bonaventure leading, 7-6.

Carroll Goes Ahead

The Streaks went ahead in the second half as Ferrante heaved an 18-yard touchdown aerial to End Joe Minor who caught it at full speed in the extreme right corner of the Bonnie end zone. Lyman booted the first successful extra point of the year for Carroll and the Streaks led, 13-7.

Tie Up Game

A short time later, Marchibroda fired a scoring pass to Halfback Greg Riel on a play which covered 65 yards. The extra point attempt was wide and the game was deadlocked, 13-13.

Devildogs of Quantico To Try Streak Defenses

By JIM BRAHAM

The Marines are coming! Next Friday evening, Oct. 26, the long-awaited battle between Quantico and Carroll will take place at Cleveland Stadium.

This clash of Leathernecks and Streaks will resume a 26-year-old football rivalry between the Quantico, Va., Marine Corps School and John Carroll.

Their first meeting in 1925 resulted in a scoreless tie. The Streaks' 1926 eleven defeated the Marines, 14-7. But Quantico downed the Streaks in 1930 and 1931 by the scores of 14-0 and 13-0.

This season the Marines are invading with a team which has but one victory to its credit. It has lost four battles, each by only a one-touchdown margin.

Four Game Loser

Quantico opened its schedule with a 12-7 setback at the hands of the strong Xavier Musketeers. Dayton then beat them, 21-14. The Marines ground out a 28-7 victory over the Bolling Air Force Base team, but were defeated in their next two contests. The Parris Island Marines edged them, 20-14, and Fort Jackson took their measure, 21-13.

The Marine team is loaded with former college and professional stars, but their coach, Capt. Wm. G. Justice, still has a problem. His is the task of taking a group of players from different schools and different systems, and attempting to weld the lot into a smooth-functioning unit.

There are eight lettermen returning from the great 1950 team which won nine of its 11 games.

Nine Seniors Start in Rough Rider Lineup

The Case Rough Riders, on the verge of their best season since 1941, hope to shatter a six-game losing streak against Carroll when they tangle with the Streaks tomorrow night at Shaw Stadium.

The University Circle boys lost a heartbreaker to Ohio Wesleyan last Saturday on a field goal in the last 20 seconds of play, 17-14. They hold 21-14 and 38-7 triumphs over Akron, and Washington and Jefferson respectively. Case will enter the field in a revengeful mood since they lost to the Blue and Gold, 51-14, last year.

Squad Has Depth, Reserve

Coach Lou Saban has a seasoned squad, carrying 15 seniors and 11 juniors. Besides these experienced veterans, the Rough Riders have a fine group of sophomores and freshmen who are capable of filling in on defense, thus making the platoon system possible.

Backfield Experienced

The backfield will have George Hilderbrand, quarterback; Paul Lafatis, fullback; and speedsters Jim Theiling and Ed McPhillamy at the left and right halfback posts accordingly. In this offensive lineup all players are seniors except Kitinoja and McPhillamy.

Defensively, the Engineers backfield will have Theiling at safety with Bob Linn, John Hon and Leo Cifelli, all seniors, guarding the secondary.

Ray Wietecha of Northwestern, Washington's Bruce Rehn, Rinaldo Borg of Southern California, and big Ed Sharkey of Duke and the New York Yankees man the center position.

Backfield talent is more than abundant. Iowa State's Bill Weeks and Don Ferguson, and Dick Flowers of Northwestern present a formidable passing offense.

The workhorse of the Marines' ground attack is Bill Hawkins of the Naval Academy, who topped Quantico in scoring last season.

Other top runners include "Dixie" Howell from Mississippi and the Los Angeles Rams, Duane Whitehead and Jay Roundy of Southern California, Red Kriever, and Jack Place of William and Mary.

Film Presented at Guild Meeting

The last meeting of the John Carroll Guild took place at John Carroll University Auditorium on Wednesday, Oct. 17, at 1 p.m.

For the program, a film by Immerman & Sons on "Hat Making", was introduced by Mrs. C. G. Williams.

Tea followed with Mrs. George Ross acting as chairman of the following hostesses: Mrs. A. C. Dister, Mrs. R. M. Cave, Mrs. S. J. Fuddy, Mrs. M. A. Gregor, Mrs. George Schneider.

Fr. Welfle Gives Salute on WOSU

The Very Rev. Frederick E. Welfle, S.J., University president, and the Rev. Henry F. Birkenhauer, S.J., director of the Seismological Observatory, have transcribed a five minute salute to John Carroll University for use on radio station WOSU at Ohio State University.

The transcription will be used as a segment of the show "Campus Cavalcade," which is broadcast every Saturday over WOSU at 10:15 a.m.

"Campus Cavalcade" is designed to bring the important events happening on Ohio campuses to the attention of the public. The date of Carroll's appearance on the program will be announced later in the Carroll News.

Kaminski Out Indefinitely

Ron Kaminski, stellar Streak halfback, suffered a cracked rib in the Bonaventure fracas Sat., Oct. 13, and as a result has been shelved for the remainder of the season.

Kaminski, who has been doubling on both offense and defense for the Carroll club, was leading ground gainer in the Bonaventure game prior to being injured.

He is a graduate of Toledo Central Catholic, is a monogram winner of the 1950 campaign, and in addition, won his letter as a freshman in 1949-'50.

During the three previous games of the '51 season, Kaminski has been an outstanding ground-gainer and defensive back for the Elsie coached aggregation. His loss will be keenly felt in coming contests.

Joe Ziccardi, Streak punt expert, is currently slated by Elsie to take over as understudy for the injured Toledoan.

crest Home for Delinquent Girls. Robert Curry was in charge of the program. The show was a big hit and it should be an inspiration to other Carroll men to do good in carrying an apostolic program to those less fortunate than themselves.

Since Carroll also has the Regional Chair on Industrial Relations, Jack Killeen will lead this panel discussion. His program will center around the Church's answer to the labor problem.

Arrangements Being Made

Connie Yuhus from St. John's College is in charge of arranging for the Congress in regard to reservations, meals, and finances. Rosanne O'Neill, Regional President from Ursuline, has set up the program for the Congress and arranged for speakers.

Jon J. Altman, Regional Vice-President, arranged for room reservations and took care of publicity in Cleveland. The ten colleges that will be represented are: John Carroll, Notre Dame, Ursuline, St. John's; Detroit, Mercy, and Marygrove in Detroit; Mary Manse, in Toledo; Madonna, in Plymouth, Mich; and Siena Heights, in Adrian, Mich.

Plant Tours To Open

Carroll students and their friends are cordially invited to inspect the new Nottingham Water Filtration Plant. Any one wishing to make a conducted tour of the plant need only visit it on Saturday, Oct. 20, or Sunday, Oct. 21.

JCU Host to Brazilians

Seventeen students from the University of Rio Grande do Sul, Porto Alegre, Brazil, have sent a request to John Carroll officials for free lodging during a three day period in February.

Rony Ruschel, spokesman for the group of engineering students, said in his letter that it is a custom for them to tour their fatherland or another South American country before graduation. However, they chose to visit the United States, hoping to increase their knowledge by a study of engineering methods and techniques used here.

Alumni to Sponsor Homecoming Dance

The annual Homecoming Dance, co-sponsored by the alumni associations of John Carroll and Dayton Universities, will be held on Sunday, Nov. 4, following the clash between the Streaks and the Flyers.

The Jubilairs will furnish music for the traditional event. Bids are selling at $2.00 per couple.

Harold Traverse and Art Grumney are heading the student committee; Jim Slattery, '51, and Jim Conway, '50, are co-chairmen of the alumni committee.

Fr. Clark Gives Retreat

FRESHMEN ARE INSTRUCTED by the Rev. Charles D. Clark, S.J., during their annual retreat, Oct. 10, 11, and 12.

Quarterly Seeks Literary Works

"The Carroll Quarterly wants manuscripts and art work for the Fall issue." That's the latest word from Patrick Trese, editor of the literary magazine.

"We can use all kinds of efforts from sonnets to short stories," said Trese. "We need some reviews of current books, essays, poetry, and one act plays. We also need an artist for illustrative work."

Manuscripts and drawings may be presented at either the Quarterly or Carroll News offices, or to any member of the Quarterly staff. Members of the English department will also accept contributions. Deadline for the Fall issue is Nov. 1.
